Press Release

Home Legend, Inc. names Jamann Stepp as new Vice President

Chino, CA, June 8th, 2009: Home Legend, a leading manufacturer and distributor of Hardwood, Laminate, Bamboo and Cork flooring, has announced the appointment of Jamann Stepp as the Vice President of Direct Sales. Stepp will create and direct the national sales force servicing the floor covering retail markets. He will report directly to CEO, Clint Hubbard, and President, Erik Giventer.

"Jamann has nearly 20 years of sales, marketing, operations management and procurement experience in the flooring industry," said Hubbard. "He has an insider's understanding of the direct retail business coupled with in-depth knowledge of the hard-surface industry. This combination will make him an invaluable part of our team as we cultivate new business channels."

Stepp had previously served in roles as Global Product and Marketing Brand Manager, Director of Sales and Marketing and Regional V.P. of Sales for his prior employers. While in these positions, Stepp oversaw all marketing, sales and operations activities, while significantly growing the company's business.
